

Ancillary Relief Group

The members of the ancillary relief group have experience and expertise in all areas of divorce and financial provision. We provide advice and representation at every level on such issues as the division of assets, provision for children, pre-and post-nuptial agreements, civil partnerships, TOLATA, tax, pensions and the enforcement of court orders.

We advise and represent clients across the entire spectrum of financial provision applications from those with modest means to those with substantial assets.

We are able to provide a comprehensive choice of barristers specialising in this area to suit the needs of particular clients and the demands of each case.
